Lawyers to remember:-

-Justice Shahidul Islam

- ♣ The first duty of an advocate is to be a gentleman. If he does not possess the natural instinct of a gentleman, he will constantly find himself in trouble.
- ♣ All round honesty and integrity are virtues, which have a very high place in the legal profession. Honesty does not mean uprightness only in money transactions.
- ♣ The key to success is work; work patient, work in the midst of starvation and despair.
- ♣ An advocate should not allow himself to be employed for any purpose, which is not honorable.
- ♣ An advocate has no right to disbelieve his client and when a case is presented to him, he must ordinarily assume that the client's version is true.
- ♣ His duty is not to judge but to take up client's case to the court and use all fair means to plead his case.
- ♣ Courtesy to all is an indispensable requisite of a good Advocate.
- ♣ Snappishness (KU gU Kwi qv K_ y ej y) irritates the Judge, annoys the client, hurts the opponent and makes the advocate notorious.
- ♣ So long as Courts of Justice remains Courts of Justice, there must be decency maintained.
- ♣ The independence of the Bar is in no way antagonistic (we#i vax ey kÎ ") to the independence of the Bench and the two may well thrive (m#ZR nBqv) together.
- ♣ Duties should be performed with firmness and without display of temper. A quick tempered advocate is sure to land himself into trouble soon.
- ♣ Law is essentially a practical science.
- ♣ It is not enough to say that an advocate downs the section. He must read and re-read it till he has arrived at the various interpretations that it is capable of.
- ♣ It is superfluous to add that the advocates, who desire to keep themselves upto date in their knowledge of law, should regularly read the law reports or Journals as they come out. It is not enough to read the reports, as it is impossible to store the cases up in one's memory. Recent decisions must be therefore be noted in the margin of the books used by the advocate. It may be years before new editions come out.
- ♣ Life is a mission, its end is not the search after happiness but knowledge and the fulfillment of dut.
- ♣ Man hungers after knowledge as a lion after food.
- ♣ First and foremost to have courage, without courage no lawyer can succeed.

♣ Law is not a trade but a science which case is mastered only by devoted and prolonged study. 12. C. L. J-27-28.

♣ If the Laws could speak for themselves, they would complain of the lawyers in the first place- Halifax.

♣ Tolstoy Said:-

“If a man keeps truth before his eyes in all its purity, is not untruthful to himself then he will find a way to act according to his strength.”

♣ Judge Dillon Said:-

“A case ought to be opened leaf by leaf as a rose unfolds.”

♣ Judge Millar says:-

“Not one lawyer in twenty can state a case neatly, logically and compactly.”

♣ Lord Bolingbroke said

"Advocacy in its nature, the noblest and most beneficial to mankind, and in its abuse the most sordid (#bisi) and most pernicious (a'smKi)
